About

My name is Ryan. I am a student at Algonquin College in Ottawa, Ontario, Canada. My evolving career in design and development is my passion. I have a broad work history from labour-intensive trade work to customer service jobs and leadership roles. I am looking for clients who wish to collaborate on bringing their venture to its full potential. If you're looking for someone to help bring your vision to reality, look no further. I work with clients on a one-on-one basis to deliver a custom product tailored to their needs.

Video production is one of my favorite subjects. I have knowledge in Adobe Premiere Pro and Adobe After Effects. with these programs I am able to create edited videos for personal or corporate use such as corporate videos.

WEB

Web Development is new to me but I am quickly learning how to create fully functional websites for portfolios, small businesses, self promoting, and much more.
